The Hongkong Telegraph.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1893.

TELEGRAMS.

THE HAMBURG PRESS AND FRENCH STATESMEN.

LONDON, March 30th.

The Hamburg newspaper Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung views with apprehension the recent expulsion of German newspaper correspondents from Paris, and accuses French statesmen of diverting attention from the Panama scandals by unbridling popular hatred against Germans.

UNITED STATES TARIFF.

President Cleveland has indicated that several congressmen have declared their intention to summon a special session during September or October to consider the tariff.

FRANCE.

March 31st.

The French Cabinet has resigned.

ENGLAND'S POLICY IN EGYPT.

Lord Rosebery in a despatch to Lord Cromer dated 16th February recapitulated the events connected with the recent crisis. He protested against the action of the Khedive, which, if disregarded, would have entailed further grave consequences. He considered it not prudent to positively assume that all risk of future trouble had ended. England must continue her present policy, as it is absolutely certain that Egypt can in no case be released from European control, which might easily be more stringent and less onerous than at present.

THE PANAMA BRIBERY TRIALS.

PARIS, March 29th.

The sentences in the Panama bribery trials (quite distinct from the trials for fraud and malversation) are as follows:—M. Balthus, degraded, sent to jail for five years, and ordered to pay a million francs in reparation; M. Blondin, two years; M. de Lesseps, one year. The rest are acquitted.

In the Chamber, M. Millevoys's interpellation on the trials was met with the "order of the day"; M. Casenove spoke demanding a dissolution; defeated by 374 to 200.

GLOBE-TROTTERING.

Queen Victoria goes to Florence.

The Kaiser goes to Rome.

MORE SCANDALS.

There are great scandals in Berlin, arising out of hospital fund juggling.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THERE will be no issue of the Hongkong Telegraph on Easter Monday, the 3rd inst.

H.M.S. Severn will probably leave Shanghai for her summer cruise to-morrow. She visits Nagasaki, thence on to Chemulpo.

THE proportion of Hebrews in the population of England has more than doubled itself in twenty years, without counting immigration.

NO less than sixty sea-going junks, each carrying 10,000 piculs, have been chartered in Shanghai for the conveyance of a tribute rice from Soochow to Peking.

THE tank steamer Conch, having successfully performed her maiden trip from Batoum to Kobe direct, with her cargo, arrived here to-day with rice and coal.

THE gladiatorial show, arranged for to-morrow will not take place owing to unforeseen circumstances, which, to say the least, are surprising. Full details in our next issue.

WE are informed by the agents (Messrs. Dodwell, Carrill & Co.) that the "Mogul" liner SIVA left Singapore on the 30th ult. for this port, and is due on or about the 5th inst.

A REGULAR meeting of Zealand Lodge, No. 525, will be held in Freemasons' Hall, Zealand Street, this evening, at 8.30 for 9 o'clock precisely. Visiting brethren are cordially invited.

It will be learned with regret that the "Cattaneo" concert, in aid of the Netherlands Hospital, has been further postponed until the 13th inst. in consequence of the illness of some of the promoters.

AT the police court to-day a stone-cutter from Canton, who on arrival in Hongkong this morning by the Paige took away another passenger's bundle "by mistake," was sent to prison for 60 days.

THE British cruiser Dolphin, Commander MacArthur, arrived in harbour this morning from C-nada, via Manila. The gun-vessel Firebrand, Lieut-Com. Tufnell, arrived from the latter port yesterday.

THE Avon states that the shareholders in the Turane Coal Company held a meeting on the 23rd March at Hanoi to consider their course of action in the present unsatisfactory crisis. It is not stated whether any decision was taken.

ON the night of the 17th March, in a violent freshet on the Red River, the Messageries Fluviales steamer Nagaina was dragged from her moorings and driven on the mud at Hanoi, and large numbers of junks were badly damaged.

WE learn that the Propontis business, the link in shipping circles for some days past, has been satisfactorily adjusted. Telegraphic instructions have been received from home to settle all liabilities, and consequently the old ship will resume active operations at an early date.

A VACANTY correspondent writes to know what we think of the Editor of the Swiss prospect of gaining first prize in a baby beauty show, supposing such an exhibition were started in the colony. We are much too lovely ourselves to give an unprejudiced opinion on such a delicate question.

THE Société Française des Charbonnages de Tonkin has just entered into a large and what ought to prove a paying contract for supplying Hongkong with coal to Canton. We learn from the City of Rams that previous supplies of this coal have given most satisfactory results and that there is a large and increasing demand for it.

"JIM THE PENMAN," which is announced to be performed by the London Lyric Company at the Theatre Royal, City Hall, to-night, is universally acknowledged to be one of the cleverest and most effective of modern plays. It is from the pen of Sir Charles Young, and if there is any appreciation of high-class dramatic art in Hongkong, there will be a crowded house.

H.M.S. Dolphin, which arrived here this morning from Manila, was unlucky enough to run into Messrs. Lane, Crawford & Co.'s water boat, the latter vessel, of course, having considerably the worst of the collision. Fortunately the damage done amounts to next to nothing; but it might have been a serious business, and this is only another instance of the absolute necessity for the most careful handling of vessels during foggy weather in the vicinity of a crowded harbour like that of Hongkong.

THERE were great audiences and enthusiastic receptions on Wednesday and Thursday nights for the London Lyric Company in "Doctor Bill" at the City Hall Theatre; and the verdict was decidedly that this is one of their very best and most successful pieces. It has been played in Hongkong before, but is not better played than by the present company. To-night there is sure to be no even greater success in "Jim the Penman," one of the few sensational dramas that can really be called grand.

THE Austrian man-of-war Kaiserin Elisabeth, with Archduke Franz Ferdinand d'Este on board, is expected to arrive in Singapore on the 8th inst.

ACCORDING to a telegram received in Shanghai on the 24th ult. from Nanchang the ice had broken up off the Settlement and it was expected the river would again be open to steamers in five days' time.

ST. PETER'S SEAMEN'S CHURCH.—The Mission steam-launch Day Spring will call alongside vessels holding code pennant C, between 9 and 10.30 a.m. on Sunday, to convey men ashore to the 11 o'clock service, returning about 12.30 p.m.

PARFUMS.—Inchinskowolowski is a San Francisco cabinet-maker and Parfums Zmichidomskowolowski is a Buffalo boiler-maker. Their names consolidated, says the Omaha Bee, would make a first-class clothes-line.

IN our "Shipping Extra" of to-day, and in that of the Daily Press, which was probably copied from our columns—it is stated that the British steamer Charter Towers has arrived in port. That is a mistake. The Charter Towers is snugly beached in Junk Bay, having been "bucking up" against the island of Waglan, and the Dock Company has a big and lucrative contract looming in the near distance.

A COMPLIMENTARY farewell dinner will be given at the Hongkong Hotel next Tuesday night to Mr. J. W. Boyd, late Superintendent Engineer at Kowloon Dock, who, after six years' active service, returns to "the old country." Mr. Boyd has made himself a popular man both in shipping and social circles, and he will be missed by a large number of friends. We are getting the family list ready to assist in doing Mr. Boyd all the honors next Tuesday.

THE death of Captain F. W. Schulze, in the Shanghai General Hospital on the 25th ult., is announced. The deceased was the owner in Eastern shipping circles and besides being an excellent linguist took a keen interest in meteorology, and was the moving spirit in the formation of the Shanghai Meteorological Society. Captain Schulze formerly filled the post of Harbour Master at Port Arthur and subsequently a similar position at Chemulpo. He was in the service of the China Navigation Company for a number of years.

A SHANGHAI contemporary learns that in addition to their own arms and accoutrements, the officers and men detached from the German regiments of the Peking Field Force, for service as drill instructors to the troops occupying the northern portions of the New Dominion, took with them on the day they started from Peking six Krupp field-pieces complete in every detail, 1,000 magazine rifles, as well as every sort of ammunition. The entire lot of the bulky cargo was carried in huge howitzer carts drawn by five or six mules each, well calculated to encounter the hard roads they are to travel.

A WRITER in the Beckhoff gives some amusing examples of the eccentricities lately formerly in fashion for religious works:—"A Fan to Drive Away Flies," a theological treatise on purgatory; "A Most Delectable Sweet-Perfumed Nougat for God's Salts to Smell At"; "A Pair of Bellows to Blow Off the Dust Cast Upon John the Baptist"; "A Crumb of Comfort for the Chickens of the Covenant"; "Eggs of Charity Laid by the Water of Divine Love"; "Take Ye, and Eat"; "High-Heeled Shoes for Dwarfs in Holiness"; "Hooks and Eyes for Believers' Brethren"; "The Spiritual Mustard Pot, to Make the Soul Sneeze with Devotion."

WITH reference to the death, from cholera, of Sir Elliot Bovill, late Chief Justice of the Straits Settlements, at Singapore, on the 24th ult., our exchanges contain but few additional particulars to those given by special telegrams on that date. The disease was evidently contracted in Malacca but beyond feeling slightly unwell on the following day no symptoms of a serious nature were developed. On Friday morning, however, the deceased became seriously ill and Dr. Hood was called in. He at once pronounced the case to be one of cholera and everything possible was done for the relief of the sufferer, but without avail. Sir Elliot Bovill expired at 6 p.m., having been unconscious for some hours previous. Lady Bovill is at present in England.

THE startling announcement is made that the whole range of the Andes is slowly sinking into the earth's crust. As proof of this La Gaceta Geographica says that Quito was 9,595 feet above the level of the sea in the year 1745; in 1800 it was only 9,570 ft. in 1831, 9,567, having sunk twenty-five feet in the fifty-five years following 1745, and but three feet during the thirty-one years which intervene between 1800 and 1831. In 1853 the city's level had been reduced 100,520 feet above the level of the Pacific Ocean. To sum up the total we find that Ecuador's capital has sunk seventy-six feet in 122 years. Antisana's farm, the highest inhabited spot on the Andes (4,000 feet higher than Quito itself, which is the highest real city on the globe), is said by the same authority to be 218 feet lower than it was in 1745.

THE deadly character of the climate of German New Guinea is brought out by the fact that about 50 per cent. of those who have gone there have either died or been sent away ill. The Singapore Free Press says:—"In the case of the German steamer Schwulz, which plies between Singapore and the German New Guinea settlement, malarial fever has carried off the Captain, chief officer, and, on Sunday at the General Hospital here, the chief engineer. And yet in the case of the officers and crew ought to have been a greater degree of immunity from malarial fever, as it was not necessary for them to reside ashore. So saturated with malaria was the system of the engineer, a Mr. Jansen, that we hear the characteristic malarial odor was quite evident on approaching the patient. To accept an appointment on the north coast of New Guinea is apparently not very far from accepting a sentence of death, with an indefinite interval before the sentence takes effect."

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Rub lamp chimneys with dry sawdust. Throw chloride of lime in rat holes. Wash oilcloth with skimmed milk. Beat carpets on the wrong side first. Keep everything clean around the well. Apply barbitone to the stings of insects. Pour boiling water through fruit salads. Drink cream for a burned mouth and throat. Put your coffee grounds on your house plants. Good eggs always have dull looking shells. Baked vinegar and myrrh are good deodorizers. Use oatmeal instead of soap for toilet purposes. Camphor is the best antiseptic preparation known. Use whisky instead of water to make liquid glue. Sponge roughened skin with brandy and rose-water. Use hairbrush to bring back colors faded by acids. Wagon grease will take off warts and protruding moles. If sneezing be induced it will stop a disagreeable hiccup.—Herald.

THE Malachi reports that there are indications of a return of influenza in Tokyo, though so far, the disease seems to be of a milder form than on previous occasions.

FIFTY thousand American girls, it is said, now hold colleges. What other country on this good globe, asks a Yankee contemporary, can boast so many educated and enlightened women?

AMONG the smallest products of man's constructive talent must now be numbered a tea-bottle which has been hammered by an ingenious foreign metal-worker out of a small copper coin a little larger than a cent.

THE Singapore Legislative Council has just passed an Evidence Bill in which is embodied a clause enabling prisoners to give testimony on their own behalf. How long will it be before the law is similarly amended in this Colony?

THE French Colonies in the Far East have sent telegrams of condolence to M. Ferry, testifying to the esteem in which the deceased statesman was held as "Tonkin's representative" (in the Chamber of Deputies) and most illustrious champion.

THE following lucid item of news is from the Singapore Free Press:—"A subordinate officer in the Government service is under suspension, and he will have to appear before the Executive Council to answer charges of neglect of duty. The Press is an enterprising paper, and will probably disclose the name of the 'officer' in its next year's almanac."

A CHINESE doctor and two women charged at the Magistracy to-day with attempting to steal an old woman's infant daughter for barem purposes. The women were sent to jail for three months and the doctor for two for a month each. The girl's mother, caught in the act, was fined a dollar to make out a strong case in her society, with the alternative of a week's imprisonment; and the child was handed over to the Registrar-General.

AT the next meeting of the Legislative Council on Wednesday, 5th April, at 5 p.m., the business will be—Financial Minute. (Hon. Colonial Secretary.) Order of the day:—Committee on the bill entitled "An Ordinance to provide for ascertaining the amounts to be paid by way of compensation in respect of the wharves and docks along the line of the Praya Reclamation, to fix the period for the payment thereof and for other purposes in connection therewith."

AT the Magistracy to-day, before Capt. Hastings, Ho Shing, junk master, was charged with leaving the anchorage at West Point in prohibited hours without a permit. It was shown that about 1 a.m. to-day (Sat. inst.) his junk was seen going towards the Canton river, and was stopped by a police launch. There was a general cargo on board, and about 40 persons, crew and passengers. The defendant pleaded that he was only going to the Kowloon godowns to ship rice; but it would not wash—$100 or 3 months. The fine was paid.

MINING matters in the Malay Peninsula would seem to be looking up. The Rawang Tin Mining Company has declared a dividend of 100 per cent. and the latest reports from Rumbek are most encouraging. Mr. Ribby, the manager, writes that he has discovered what appears to be a "true gold-bearing lode running north and south with the state of the country." The lode averages one foot in thickness and carries gold all through it. The manager considers that the discovery of the existence of this lode is the most important yet made in that section of the Company's property. It is anticipated that the next clean-up will yield better results than any others have done for some considerable time.

By virtue of the powers invested in him as Co-President of the Board of Admiralty and Commander-in-Chief of the Ship-Chief or Peking Field Force, the Prince of Ching—formerly a European Courtier as Bel-lie I-K'ung, or I-K'ung Prince—has been sent to the Tientsin Naval School to study the best schools from the Peking Naval School, to continue their studies under the better advantages obtainable by a closer proximity to the sea and the Training Ship connected with the School at Tientsin. The Mercury hears that thirty more students will be sent to the Military School, opposite the American Settlement at Tientsin, by the Prince of Ching in the course of the summer, for the special study of cavalry tactics and artillery drill. All the students are of Manchurian descent and some of them are members of the Imperial Clan, "Yellow-riders," and Red-riders, or collateral relatives of the Imperial House.

JOHN C. THOMSON, M.A., M.D., Superintendent.

THUS the Shanghai Mercury of the 25th ult.—"The diplomatic world in Peking which has been sufficiently exercised already by the retirement of the venerable Doyen of the Corps Diplomatique, will be further perplexed by the news of the unexpected recall of the French Minister, M. Lemaire, who stood next to Herr von Brandt on the list of seniority. Col. Denby, the U.S. Minister, comes next, but with a son in the employment of the Chinese Government, and the strained relations that exist between the Peking Government and Washington, there are grave doubts as to whether it would be politic or proper for Col. Denby to accept a post. The Netherlands Minister, Mr. H. Ferguson, would by seniority precede the others, but he is only a Minister Resident, and the Italian Minister is not in the running, as he has to leave for home shortly. The Japanese Minister has always declined to accept the honor on principle, and would probably do so again were it offered him. The only two Ministers remaining in Peking are the Russian and the British, and of the two Count Cassini is slightly the senior; but what he gains in seniority is more than counterbalanced by the very considerable experience of Chinese affairs which Mr. O'Connor already possesses. The question is an important one, and we shall watch its development with interest."

SCULPTORS will tell you that the man who is perfectly proportioned weighs exactly twenty and three-fourths pounds for every foot of his height.

ON the night of the 20th March the inhabitants of Hanoi were alarmed by the sound of firing in the direction of Quin-lot, near the old city abattoir, on the right bank of the Red River. The police guard turned out, and found that a small band of cattle-lifters (alias pirates) had entered the village, stolen two buffaloes, and wounded an old woman. Subsequently it was discovered that the raid was the outcome of a bet between Quin-lot and another village, instead of being, as at first thought, a sign of renewed hostility on the part of the natives against the French.

AT the Magistracy to-day, before Capt. Hastings, H. Hygon, master of the Danish steamer Actio, was charged by P.C. Campbell, of the water police, with having on the 23rd March shipped arsenic in a prohibited part of the harbour during prohibited hours. The evidence showed that he was taking in kerosene from cargo-boats near Sincowater in the gunpowder anchorage, at half past one in the morning. The defence was the usual one—ignorance, verdict, guilty, sentence, $15 or six weeks for the topographical error, and $100 or three months for the offence as to time. Fines both paid.

THE Kobe Herald says:—"The ominous rumours of misapprehension of funds collected for the relief of the sufferers by the appalling earthquake of October 1891, rumours which no one cared to give serious attention to, have been revived, unfortunately, in a more definite and unmistakable form. The scandal has passed the preliminary stage, and it is now only a question of time when the matter will be thrashed out in Court. It is difficult, if not impossible, to give a satisfactory explanation of the scandal at present. Suffice it to say, in the meantime, that accusations have been made by certain people of Kasamatsu—the town on the bank of the Kiso-gawa which was almost burnt down immediately after the earthquake—involving the good name of several officials and headsman, and that distinct charges of bribery and malfeasance have been lodged in connection with works upon the river embankments in Haguri county."

THEY speak greater or less length upon politics, religion, weather, millinery, gloves, neckties, skating, society, dancing, the public schools, the church and its mission, the difficulty of a constitution of sleighing, the difficulty of getting hired girls, the supply of natural gas, and other topics of minor importance. Still he lingered, instinct told him that the old man was yet awake, but he set the danger at naught and stayed.

There was another subject which he wished to broach.

"My dear friend—"

It seemed a very cold and distant form of address, but he had previously decided it was the best under the circumstances.

"I wish to—speak to you of something very near my heart."

"Why?"

As she stared at him the perplexity in her face suddenly gave way to intelligence.

"Oh, yes, I know your lungs. How are they, anyhow? How stupid of me to ask."

He never knew what he murmured in reply. When he recovered complete consciousness he was walking home and the crisp snow was crushing noisily under his feet.

THE "ERIM" AND "HAIPHONG."

The Norwegian steamer Krim, Capt. Hagmann, arrived in Hongkong yesterday (31st March), apparently no worse for her short stay in Hainan Straits. She will, however, be docked as soon as the cargo can be all landed, and until then it cannot of course be said with certainty, though it seems most likely, that she is absolutely unharmed.

The Krim left Hongkong on the 23rd March, about 5 p.m., with a full cargo (3,000 tons) of "Charbonnages" coal for Hongkong, and by Saturday morning (25th) she was picking her way slowly through the heavy banks of fog about the troublesome region of Hainan Straits, when the Haiphong was seen signalling for assistance on the South Bank near Hainan Head. The Krim came as near as seemed safe, and it was found that the Haiphong was not making water at all; incidentally, it was also ascertained that the Krim's manager, Mr. Bavier-Chauffour, manager for the Charbonnages, was on board the Haiphong. The first attempt to drag the stranded vessel into deep water failed, the tow-ropes parted. The Krim then again approached, but this time got ashore herself. She at once began to jettison cargo, and by Sunday evening a native boat had reached Hoihow with the news, and lighters were sent out to take off the Haiphong's cargo. A Chinese revenue cutter also came to render assistance. By Monday evening the Krim, having got rid of about 150 tons of cargo, floated off on a high spring tide, and as she seemed to be unhurt, and was not yet required to help the other boat now she proceeded at once for Hongkong.

Messrs. Herton and Co., agents at Hoihow for the Yangtze Insurance Association, have forwarded the following letter to the Hongkong agents, Messrs. Shaw & Co.:—

"Enclosed is a press copy of a telegram forwarded this morning informing you (and asking you to kindly inform the China Traders Insurance Company and the Union Insurance Society of Canton) that the steamer Haiphong (from Hongkong to Haiphong), and the steamer Krim (from Hongkong to Hongkong) with coal, were reported ashore on the South Bank near Hainan Head. They are said to have got ashore on the 24th (Saturday). The Krim is reported to be throwing coal overboard, and boats were sent from here last night to lighten the Haiphong. A Chinese gunboat went out this morning and is expected back to-night, when we shall obtain further particulars and duly inform you."

The Haiphong got off shortly after the Krim left. The French boat, being bound west, put into Hoihow to reload the cargo which she had put into lighters. As the Krim and the French steamer Saigon were reported proceeding to the scene of the accident, but had not arrived when the Krim came away, it is to be presumed that they helped the Haiphong to get off; and probably the passengers would be taken on direct, instead of going to Hoihow.

M. de Champeaux, Hongkong agent of the Messageries Maritimes, received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Haiphong, stating that the Haiphong was in Hoihow, quite safe, taking her cargo in again.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The Chinese gunboat which left here on the 27th inst., with Mr. Neumann, Commissioner of Customs, aboard for the stranded steamer Haiphong, has not yet returned, but is expected hourly. Mr. Neumann left for the purpose of bringing the Haiphong's passengers on to Hoihow, where every effort will be made to lodge them until another steamer is ready to convey them to their destination—there are about twenty of them, I hear. A junk brought in the news last night that the Haiphong has a large hole in her bottom and is gradually sinking. How far this is true I am at present unable to estimate, as we have not received any authentic report.

THE "CHARTERS TOWERS" ASHORE IN LY-EE-MOON PASS.

Early this morning the steamship Charters Towers, Captain Murray, with a cargo of coal from Kutchin, Japan, to Hongkong under charter to the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, ran on to the north end of Waglan Island, and sustained such serious damage that Captain Murray decided to beach his vessel, and after getting her off the rocks ran her ashore on Slope Island in Junk Bay, in the Ly-ee-moon Pass, where she now lies. The weather was very foggy at the time the steamer rounded, but for the fact that she was going "dead slow" at the time she should probably have had to report a disaster attended with serious loss of life. The fog was so thick that the engines had been stopped for ten minutes, when Waglan was sighted; the engines were then put full speed ahead, to prevent the current carrying the ship ashore, but she grazed the rocks in turning.

Captain Murray lost no time after beaching the Charters Towers, in coming to Hongkong, and completing arrangements with the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Co. to send out pumps and all necessary gear to temporarily repair and float the steamer. In all probability the Charters Towers will have to discharge all, or at least a considerable portion of her cargo, before she can be floated. Lighters are now working alongside.

"NIOBE."

The following description, taken from the Sydney Sunday Times, of "Niobe," which is to be produced by the London Lyric Company in the City Hall on Tuesday next, will be read with interest.

"Niobe," described on the bills as a "Mythological Modern Comedy in three acts" is by Messrs. H. and E. Paulton. It was originally produced at Liverpool, England, in the autumn of 1890, and its London debut took place on April 1st of last year at the Strand Theatre, and so pronounced has been its success that as far as we know it is still going strongly at Willie Edison's house at the present time. A truly phenomenal run. With "Niobe" Messrs. Brough and Boudcault scored a success in Melbourne, and the "new and original fantastic modern comedy" has now reached Sydney. If our memory serves us rightly, whilst predicting a successful run for the comedy, some of the London critics fell foul of its appellation, and suggested that "Pygmalion and Galatea up to Date" would have been more appropriate. This, however, is a matter of not the least moment. Niobe is a statue which comes to life. Pygmalion, the lady is identical with the daughter of Tantalus, King of Lydia, who married Amphion, and who, overwhelmed with grief at the death of her own daughters at the hands of Apollo and Diana, was changed into a stone. Anyhow, a certain Peter Amos Dunn, an insurance agent, takes charge, for an trust in 1888 for the maintenance of a dispensary in Sai-yung-poon district, at the same time generously adding a further sum of $3,000 to complete the estimated cost ($10,000) of the proposed building, which at his request will be known as the Nethercole Hospital.

The Nethercole Hospital is now in course of erection, and will probably be finished by the end of June, when as soon as possible the proposed alterations in the Alice Memorial Hospital will be accomplished, and whole work will go forward under very much more favourable circumstances. While there will be two buildings, one the more convenient for the out-patient work, the other the more suitable for in-patient purposes, the work will be one. Financially, it already is so; the professional and executive staff will be common to both, and, practically, interchange of patients will take place as freely between the two hospitals as at present between the wards of the single building.

The work of the Out-Patient Department is shared by Dr. Thomson, Dr. Chung, Dr. Noble, Dr. Jordan, Dr. Bell, Dr. Hardigan, Dr. Canale, Dr. Cowie, and Dr. Carvalho.

The number of new cases in 1893 has been 9064, and of return visits 9146, making a total of 18,210. These have been spread over the year as follows:—January 1051, February 881, March 1504, April 1368, May 1645, June 1538, July 1759, August 1953, September 1685, October 1529, November 1725, December 1584.

The number of vaccinations performed during 1893 has been 249.

The in-patient work done may be thus tabulated:—

In-Patients remaining in Hospital on 1st January 1893..... 59
In-Patients admitted to Hospital during the year 1893..... 816
Total number treated as In-Patients—875
Of these were:—

Discharged Cured..... 517
Discharged Relieved..... 312
Discharged on other Grounds..... 52
Died in Hospital..... 37

In-Patients remaining in Hospital on 1st January 1893..... 57
One hundred and fifty-two operations under the influence of anaesthetics have been performed during 1893, with results as under:—

Cured..... 138
Improved..... 11
Not Improved..... 1
Died..... 1

In the above figures no account is taken of the dental operations, nor of a very large number of minor surgical operations.

Daily exposition of Scripture is conducted in the out-patient room in connection with every consultation, and in each of the five wards there are morning and evening prayers with similar Scripture reading and exposition, while conversational work is systematically carried on among such in-patients and out-patients as are willing to hear, or anxious to enquire, the way of life more fully. Evangelistic effort and professional work proceed side by side in the Hospital throughout the whole day, yet all is so arranged that neither in any sense interferes with the other.

The Treasurer's Balance Sheet shows a very serious excess of expenditure over income during the past year. The extension of the year to thirteen months, in order that for convenience in the collecting of subscriptions from the Chinese the financial year may in future end on 31st January, accounts for $300 odd; and less on remittances to London for medical and surgical stores through the low value of the dollar, and the increasing expenses of an increasing work chiefly account for the remainder; but, while there is no immediate cause for anxiety on this score, it is peculiarly unfortunate that in the year preceding the opening of a new Hospital supplementary to the present building there should be such a very considerable falling off as there is in the foreign contributions to the funds. Happily, the Chinese have given to the occasion, and in spite of hard times their contributions are larger than last year, a result due to the vigorous efforts of Messrs. Wai To, Ho To, and Teung Sa Kai, to whom, as also to all others who during the year have bestowed time, labour, money, or gifts in kind, on the work, I beg to offer most hearty thanks.

CHINESE VILLAGE FETES.

Nothing so impressive as a "Foreign Devil" as the ability and zeal with which the Chinese co-operate to increase the sum total of their amusements. Not only in their wedding festivals and funeral feasts, but in their village fêtes do they all unite to obtain the largest amount of pleasure at a minimum cost to all who partake of it. In other countries where there are communities of equal poverty or equal wealth, this joint action is unknown. The British peasant waits for the opening of the county fair; the American farmer and farm hand for election times when candidates and political committees supply free lunches and gratuitous barbecues. The Germanbauer and the French field hand go once in a quarter to some town or city where the Government supplies free music and cheap inns or to restaurants that allow their patrons full license to do what and when they please.

Chinese village fêtes are of two kinds, the one general and the other domestic. The former are held annually, biennially, or even once in five, ten or twenty years as the case may be. The expenses, always large, are defrayed by a general subscription from the public and by an appropriation from the funds of the town where it is held. The subscription is practically compulsory as to be a tax or official assessment and varies in amount from $10 to $100 per head according to the wealth and prosperity of the individual.

The subscriptions are very popular, the people subscribe as generously as their purse permits. The reason lies in the fact that a list of subscribers' names is printed in prominent characters and posted in the most conspicuous place. A second list is burned at the moment the fête closes, along with paper-money and other offerings to the deity, salar or hero in whose honor the rejoicing is held. The one list gains the favor of the community and the other that of spiritual beings. Refusing to subscribe incurs the ill-will and contempt of both the village and the unseen world.

In every town are at least two or three temples, each of which is dedicated to an image of an ancient warrior, philosopher, saint, hero, and philanthropist. They are memorial figures rather than pantheons. Thus for example if Washington, Lincoln and Grant of the United States, Wellington, Disraeli and Tennyson of England, had lived in China, they would be canonized and revered to-day, the same as are Quong-Tai, Confucius, Mencius and Lao-Tse. The honor once conferred remains, no matter what the change in dynasties and may be the same shrine as the peaceful Nanjing citizen or the restless Cantonese. It is not a religious cult or worship, as too often so-called by careless writers and thinkers. It is a system of customary reverence and thanksgiving.

On this account, China is flooded with temples and shrines with canonical beings. The custom goes so far that it is frequently applied to living people. Temples of this class are termed "Sang Chen" (living temples). In honor of the famous conqueror of Kuldja on the north-west frontier, temples were built in different parts of the western provinces five and ten years before his death.

Village fêtes are held in honor of the birth or death of these distinguished men. As each temple contains a number of shrines, the number of fêtes would be very great and the burden of expense unbearable, if each saint had a fête twice a year. A compromise is effected in this way. The general fête is given to the most important personage, whose shrine is found in the village temple. A nominal fête is given to each of the others, when the subscription and appropriation are insignificant. No public interest is taken in these nominal fêtes, except that the elders are entitled to a seat at the banquet and each family to a share in the spoils of the occasion, viz. the roast pork, fish and other eatables, which are left over from the table.

General fêtes like the stars differ in glory. In some towns they are the same from year to year. In others they culminate in a vast affair once in a decade. On such occasions the preparations are conducted on a huge scale and the expense runs into the thousands. Last year (1892) one of these decennial celebrations was held at the Temple of the Warrior in Fushan. The institution is very rich, owning real-estate, monts-de-piété and banks. It issued the customary notice and both the public and the other temples responded liberally, the total contributions amounting to over $200,000; eight months were consumed in necessary arrangements. The feast occupied three days and nights and was attended by a half million visitors from all parts of Kuang-tung. None of these were noticed, no matter whether rich or poor. Such fêtes happen once or twice a year in Canton and the other very large cities.

The occasions are nearly always marked by quiet and hearty enjoyment. The chief exception to this rule was a recent festival in Sie Kiu, about 60 miles from Canton. The people were all at dinner when a conflagration broke out not far from a large public dining hall. By a sudden change in the wind, the flames were driven into the hall cutting off almost all escape, and over 1,300 persons perished.

Such accidents are rare, as every precaution is taken by the village elders against both fire and robbery. For the former, pumps and hose are provided and put in order, pails and casks of water are placed in convenient places, and ladders, books and axes distributed among special stations. The regular police force is increased by volunteers armed to the teeth who act as preservers of the peace as well as firemen in case of necessity. The force varies in number according to the size of the town and the splendor of the feast and usually ranges from one hundred to one thousand men.

On the second kind of village fête is of a domestic nature. It may be given in honor of the birthday of a living elder, of a propitious marriage or of the literary or official success of a clansman. Compared with the general fêtes, they are small affairs, seldom costing more than $1,000. Exceptions to this rule are domestic fêtes given by great mandarins. In 1891 a victory in South China gave a birthday festival on which he is said to have expended over $60,000. His presents from relatives and subordinates aggregated over $2,000,000, so that his investment proved very profitable. Feasts of this class are really a class unto themselves. Superiors as well as inferiors are required to pay gifts to the donors of the feast. When the victory of Canton recently celebrated his birthday both the Emperor and the Empress dowager sent valuable gifts, worth about $50,000 each.

They were transmitted in gorgeous yellow silk cases, which are paid for by an officer of the imperial household. The cases were carried in carved ebony chairs, each supported by four men in yellow silk robes. On reaching Canton, the two presents on account of their origin were received as distinguished guests. A handsome stand, finely decorated, was erected at the landing place and was filled by the civil and military officers of the province. As the two boxes were brought ashore by the special Commissioner, who had travelled with them all the way from Peking, everybody from the Viceroy to the smallest official knelt and made obeisance three times. A grand procession then escorted the boxes through the principal streets of the city to the Viceroy's palace.

At the birth-day of a private citizen, the ceremonies are simpler, smaller and fewer, but not different in kind. Relatives, friends and neighbors are expected to send presents of some sort, money, eatables, drinkables, silk banners, congratulatory scrolls, fire crackers and fireworks being those usually given. Friends far away remit money in a large red envelope on which are written complimentary remarks, poetical phrases and the donor's name. The recipient acknowledges a birthday gift by returning a gift of smaller value. Usually a string of cash in red ribbons or a silvered peach are employed, as these have a symbolic meaning of "longevity." On wedding occasions the return is a fan and a silk handkerchief, the one being supposed to come from the bridegroom and the latter from the bride. At funerals the return is a set of porcelain ware and a piece of wood-carving, the porcelain symbolizing prosperity and the wood a piece of the coffin plank of longevity. The piece of coffin wood is only sent when the deceased has passed the three-score and ten.

Domestic fêtes of a happy character are always accompanied with theatrical shows, displays of relics, curios and paintings, embroideries and needlework, with tableaux, lanterns and illuminations. Temporary structures, such as pavilions, mat-sheds and platforms are always erected.

In some cases these edifices are permanent in character and become public or semi-public buildings after the festivities are past. Sometimes towers ranging from 100 to 300 feet are put up. They are made of bamboo filled with mud and painted in the most brilliant colors.

Of such a fête previous notices are circulated while the family is engaged in its preparation for a month before it is to take place, contributions of provisions such as hams, shankens, beche-de-mer, turtle fish, chickens, ducks (alive), eggs, fire crackers, candles, embroidered emblems, silk scrolls, etc., are sent in from friends and relatives; each friend will send no less than two of the above mentioned articles and some people of means will send in 3 or 4 kinds, but never send an odd number. A clerk who is entrusted to receive these presents, keeps a book, and puts down the sender's address and the number of articles sent in and the number accepted. This is to facilitate the work of those who issue invitations and keep the "return book."

This is a list of persons who have sent in presents and have been unable to attend the proceedings; when the fête is over, they are entitled to have their money repaid in whole or part if they contributed money, and to receive some remnant of the feast. All are entitled to share in the remnants. The head of the house engages all available rooms and buildings for the accommodation of his guests. Many guests and poor relatives bring their own bedding, but newly-made friends and distinguished arrivals are provided for by the house and put under the immediate charge of some member of the family.

The slight of these poor relations is picturesque but not pretty. Generally they come a long distance barefoot and when they arrive, they are covered with dirt almost thick enough to conceal the rays that emanate from their heads or with their wives and children. They carry one or two large bundles, which when opened consist of one or two cotton blankets or coverlets, a wooden pillow, a pot, a rice bowl, chopsticks, a clean suit of clothes, shoes and stockings, a tongue-scraper, tooth-brush, comb, and a poor little present for their host. Lodging concerns them but little. They are glad to sleep in the servants' quarters, the wood-shed or the barn. In clear weather they are satisfied with the dry ground and, the open air. On arrival, they are covered with dirt almost thick enough to conceal the rays that emanate from their heads or with their wives and children. Four or five people will occupy one bed in a small room, while an equal number will take possession of the bare floor. Where the feast lasts but one day, from dawn to dawn, the quieter sort of people sit up all night at cards, dominoes or other games of chance. The theatricals never stop, and where musicians or sing-song girls are engaged, their discordant music never ends.

While the favored mortals have the privilege to be honored as invited guests the poor relatives to the beggars, lepers, blind, deaf and dumb. Each of these hapless classes is under a chief. The chiefs appear on the scene the day before a fête comes off and demand a money gratuity, about as follows:—for the beggars, weddings from 50 cents to $4; birthdays the same price; funerals $1.00 to $5.00. For lepers, the price runs a trifle higher for the other three classes, somewhat lower. In addition to the money the chief of the beggars and of the lepers is each entitled to the remnants of one table. This he shares with his lieutenants in the open street and leaves the crumbs to the other members of the organization. By paying the money and delivering the delicacies, the giver of the fête is said to be free. Any beggar who dares to disturb him under such conditions is beaten by his chief and follows to within an inch of his life and is expelled from the district.

Sometimes, though rarely, a careful house-keeper who is also diplomatic will get so much aid in the form of presents, that the unused remainder or surplus will exceed his own personal expense in the matter. This is in about one case out of a hundred, and is looked up by the Chinese as a mark of high ability. The happy head of the household is congratulated by all his acquaintances, and by public consent is made an expert. Thereafter he can secure employment in other feasts and have a place of honor at every board at little or no cost.

On the other hand, other fathers are so careless and extravagant that a feast of any sort is as disastrous as a conflagration. If they give one in five years, they expect to economize during the entire intervening period. One of the poorest of all, the Chinese have invented a system to meet just this emergency. It is a quasi-co-operative funeral society, whose members are the heads of families. Each pays so much per funeral or per week. Sometimes the payments are based upon the number of heads in each family, but more often they are, to use a law term, per stirpes and not per capita. On the occasion of a death in the family of a member, he receives a sum from the general fund sufficient to pay for the funeral and a feast befitting.

At both events the subscribers attend, officiating, wearing mourning apparel and carrying exactly as if they were the bereaved themselves. In this manner a poor family or village shop keeper, who never had $30 in his lifetime in one lump sum, is enabled to give a funeral and feast that will cost several hundred dollars. I recall a boatman, whose home was a sampan (or rowboat) fifteen feet long, and who earned about 20 cents a day. When he lost his father, the burial cottage numbered 200 and the subsequent feast entertained as many during three days.

Organizations equally ingenious exist to increase the success of wedding feasts, holiday fêtes and similar events. Besides these organizations there are methods essentially Chinese. One is the 3-man committee, in which five men who in turn will also each get five men to defray the expenses of a social function. Another method is called "drawing friends" and other friends. The would-be host gives a dinner and a song to anywhere from five to twenty-five friends. When the feast is over and every one in good humor the matter is discussed thoroughly and each guest engages to bring with him so many other guests. The favorite numbers are 9, 10, 10, and 12, 12, as these figures will bring just as many people as the house can accommodate. It makes no difference to the host or the guests that they have never met before. They all come together for the purpose of enjoyment, and enjoy themselves they do. Under this custom a class of "foxsters" has grown up in the Flowering Empire, which vaguely resembles the habitual dinner-out at home.

The feast pass off quietly. If the event is honored by the presence of a Mandarin or an official, it is long remembered by all the convives. If there for a brief hour and saying nothing to those present, he is doing all a favor a hundred times greater than Mr. Pickwick did Mr. Leobunter. Jealousy is unknown although the wines are as plentiful as water. Indignation and the other gastric troubles wherewith Dame Nature punishes over-eating and Tobacco is smoked by all and opium by about one half of the company.

A SUBJECT FOR THOUGHT.

It is no simple matter to state in terms at all precise what forces are directly connected with the production of hale and happy old age. More certainly is involved in the process than mere strength of constitution. Healthy surroundings, contentment, and active, temperate and regular habits are most valuable aids. Hard work, so long as it is not carried beyond the limit necessary to permit of the timely repair of worn tissues, is not only harmless but a conducive circumstance. It is, in fact, by living as far as possible in life accordance with natural law that we may expect to reap the appropriate result in its prolongation. Great care should be taken to protect the system against the changes which disease makes therein; coming misery casts its shadows before it and intimates its approach by various signs, as a feeling of general weakness, neuralgic pains, nervous headaches and rising of sour wind from the stomach, backache and lumbago, failure of vitality and gradual diminution of mental power and similar symptoms, all tend to show that general debility is increasing in the patient's system. Such persons should take notice of the experience of Mrs. C. Whittington, 11 Coventry Place, South Melbourne, who for some years was afflicted with excessive nervous prostration, and who writes:—"I have been suffering over four years with neuralgia in my head, caused by a fright a few days after confinement. During the whole of this time the last excitement would make me very nervous, and it was with great difficulty that I could do my household work, and have scarcely ever had a proper night's rest, being continually disturbed with terrible dreams. I tried many remedies and was also under medical treatment, but nothing did me good until a friend recommended Clements' Tonic. I took a large bottle and have much pleasure in testifying to the good it has done me; the noise in my head is removed and I can rest at night now, and am fully convinced that Clements' Tonic does all that is claimed for it, and I recommend it to all I come in contact with, suffering as I have done." Clements' Tonic is sold everywhere. Offices and Laboratories, 512 "Beckett-street, Melbourne and at Sydney.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites acts both as food and medicine. It not only gives flesh and strength by virtue of its own nutritious properties, but creates an appetite for food that builds up the wasted body. Read the following:—"Scott's Emulsion is in my opinion an excellent and reliable compound. I have given it to consumptive patients and have been delighted with the results obtained. It is pleasant to the taste and can be a boon to the most sensitive stomach."—E. A. RUDWAY, M.D., Butter-Knowle, Darlington. Any Chemist can supply it. A. S. Watson & Co. FOLLET'S SYRUP suppresses the pain of insomnia caused by Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Migraine, Asthma, Cough, Fever, the Indigestion, Neuralgia, and other ailments. Follet's Syrup, procured from a deep sleep, affords relief to the normal sleep; its employment does not expose to any of the inconveniences of opium or of morphia. It is the best form for the administration of Chloral, its preservation is perfect and, thus presented, it does not irritate the stomach.

Follet's Syrup is sold in nearly all the pharmacies of all countries, and is prepared by the firm of J. Follet, 10, rue Jacob, Paris, who obtained the highest recognition, etc., etc., at the International Exhibition of 1889. American, Paris, etc.

EMPRESS OF INDIA6,000 ".....WEDNESDAY, 5th July.

THE STEAMERS of this Line pass through the famous INLAND SEA of JAPAN, and call at VICTORIA, B.C., to Land and Embark Passengers. The Mountain Scenery on the Canadian Pacific Railway surpasses that of any other Trans-Continental Route. Passengers booked to all the principal ports in Canada and the United States, and also through to Great Britain and the Continent of Europe; at Current Rates, with Passenger's choice of Atlantic Line. RETURN TICKETS—Time limit for prepaid Return Ticket is reckoned from date of issue to date of re-embarking at Vancouver. SPECIAL RATES (First-class only) are granted to Missionaries, Members of the Naval, Military, Diplomatic and Civil Services, and to European Officials in the service of China or Japan.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is the only Trans-Continental Line extending from the Pacific to the Atlantic Seaboard, and running its own Sleeping Coaches through without change. The Dining Cars and Mountain Hotels on this Route are owned by the Company and their appointments and cuisine are unequalled. The Steamers on the Pacific and all Day, Sleeping, and Dining Cars are comfortably heated by Steam during the Winter Season. For further information as to Passage and Freight, apply to
